low the Customhouse.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1864.

NOTICE TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS.

The Daily Democrat, delivered by carriers throughout the city, will hereafter be at the rate of twenty-five cents per week, including the Sunday paper.

Important Notice.

Owing to the increased expense of every article used in the printing business, and an advance of twenty-five per cent on the expense of composition, we are compelled to increase the cost of the Daily Democrat. Hereafter the Daily, by mail, will be one dollar per month, or six dollars for six months, or ten dollars per year—always in advance.

Important to News Dealers.

We understand that General Sherman has issued an order by which any person who desires to sell papers at the front, thus destroying the monopoly which he so long inconvenienced the army, and deprived it of a full supply of papers.

Persons can procure any number of papers at this office at the usual rate of three dollars per hundred; postage added, if by mail.

CITY NEWS.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

This having been appointed a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer, we will publish no evening paper to-day and no paper on Friday morning.

AN EXCITING EPISODE.—Yesterday morning, prior to the departure of the Major Anderson for Cincinnati, a lady who has not yet passed the boundary of youth's sunny prime, attracted to Major's attention as she stood upon the wharf, evidently in deep distress about something, while upon her countenance assumed a wild burst of indignation in view of some wrong which none of the bystanders could comprehend. As a passing stranger, she was approached, and greeted with the words: "Oh, you villain! I've found you at last, have I?" whereupon the fair unknown was seated with a sharp snap in the face, and her bonnet sent whirling on shore, shore of its flowers and ribbons. At this juncture of the feminine act, an officer appeared and separated the belligerents, a large crowd collecting in the meanwhile, who seemed to enjoy a rather unusual scene, considering the time and place.

Upon inquiry, we learned that the first lady mentioned, a Mrs. Ella Pauncast, had been deserted about two weeks since by her husband, since which time she has been following him up. His paramour took a sudden flight up Third street; the former, after a brief parley, took passage for Cincinnati, where, we hope, as they reach their journey's end, that the faithful leg and lord of man will prove a more prudent protector.

LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT JOB OFFICE.—We are now prepared to do all kinds of job printing, plain and in colors, at prices to suit the times and at the shortest notice.

GUERRILLES AT MIDDLETOWN.—Tuesday night a party of fifteen guerrillas, under the command of one Capt. Johnson, of Arkansas, entered Middletown and proceeded through the town without committing any depredations. They then proceeded to the farms of the city's residents at that place, from which they stole a number of horses. J. H. Harney had taken from his place four fine horses, three of which were his property, and one belonged to Col. Solby Harney. Capt. Womack, Provost Marshal of the Fifth district, had stolen from him a fine stallion. The stable of L. P. Wetherby was entered and robbed of a fine horse. The guerrillas left that section of country early yesterday morning, but in what direction they went is not known.

DAN CASTELLO'S SHOW.—Dan Castello's show, which has been the great attraction here for several days, will close their engagement in our city to-day, and those who wish to enjoy themselves should not fail to attend. Dan is one of the best universal actors to be found in the country, while his witlessness and originality as a clown keep his audience convulsed with laughter. Our, the celebrated trained horse, is the adored of all admirers. In the great trial of skill in vaulting, Dan is unsurpassed by any person we have before seen. There will be two performances to-day, one at half-past; two o'clock in the afternoon, and the other at seven o'clock in the evening.

REBEL PRISONERS.—Yesterday morning there were received from the trains at Nashville nine commissioned officers, one hundred and eighty enlisted men, all prisoners of war, and one hundred rebel deserters, who are to be released upon taking the oath of allegiance and sent north of the Ohio river. The following prisoners were transported from the military prison in this city north: Twelve commissioned officers to Johnson's Island, and two hundred and ten enlisted men to Camp Chase.

PAURACES ITEMS.—A very small amount of business was transacted at the barracks yesterday. Received, twenty convalescents from Taylor Barracks and eighteen from various points. Transferred, seventy-three convalescents and four prisoners to Nashville, twenty privates of the One Hundred and Ninth Kentucky to Cincinnati, nine men to Columbus to be mustered out of service, one deserted to Glasgow, Kentucky, and six other convalescents to various points.

THE RACE TO-DAY.—There will be four races at the Woodlawn Course to-day, all of which promise to be very exciting and well contested. Cars will leave the depot at quarter past one. Pools will be sold by Glore & Alfriend, J. J. Cawell & Co. will have charge of the bar, which will be supplied with the best liquors and cigars to be had.

Divine service on National Fast Day.—Thursday morning, August 4th, 1864, at half past 10 o'clock, at St. John's Episcopal Church, on Jefferson, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets.

The public are respectfully invited to attend.

The train from Nashville arrived on time last night with a good trip. Maj. Gen. Rousseau and staff were passengers on the train.

When you want job printing come to the Democrat Office, see samples and leave your orders.

The postoffice will be open to day from 7 to 9 A. M. and from 6 to 7 P. M.

The Killing of Joseph Faust by Henry Knobbe—Conclusion of the Case—Knobbe Held to Answer for Manslaughter.

Our readers are all too well familiar with the killing of Joseph Faust, on last Saturday morning, by Henry Knobbe. The accused was presented before the Police Court on Tuesday morning, when a portion of the testimony for both the Commonwealth and the defense was heard, when, owing to the absence of witnesses, the case was continued until yesterday morning, when it was again called up before the Police Court. That portion of the testimony which was given on Tuesday was published in the Democrat of Wednesday. Yesterday morning the following additional testimony was had:

FOR THE DEFENSE.

David Harney called.—I was standing at my front door where the killing was done, saw some women driving horses. The wife of the accused was driving, her husband, present at a window, and attacked her in a violent manner. The accused followed up his wife, and endeavored to prevent her committing the assault. The wife of the accused struck the accused's wife over the face and shoulders several times, and then struck him in the back with a rifle. After this two shots were fired, one by the deceased and one by his brother. The accused then went into the house, put his hands on his brother, and said, "I think the deceased was going to the direction of the house of the accused as the time the shot was fired."

Agnes Faust called.—We are staying at my brother's house and two men following her out of town could not hold her, struck her over the head and choked her. The accused came up to defend her, when he was struck in the head which caused the death of Faust. I think the deceased was going to the direction of the house of the accused as the time the shot was fired.

FOR THE PROSECUTION.—J. C. Gell called.—Saturday morning about half past ten I was called upon to attend upon the body of the deceased. Went to his residence on Jefferson street, near the bridge, attended by his wife, his son, and his son-in-law, the side of the face and neck, rather to the rear, this would cause death. I examined the head of deceased to see about the alleged wound inflicted by the club. Could not say whether the deceased was struck a club, or a rifle, or a pistol. The deceased had a bullet hole in the same side where he was wounded by the shot. The deceased could not have been fronting the accused, as the wound was in the left side.

Peter Smith called.—I was staying at the Coroner's office, and saw the deceased lying on the floor, with a bullet hole in the left side of the face and neck. I also noticed a knot or bruise on the right side of the head, having the appearance of having been hit with a rifle club. The head of the deceased was of sufficient proportion for the jury to inquire into it, and pointed it out to the Coroner.

Jerry Hollenden called.—Received a pistol from a man who said he was a member of a small slave-catching revolver. The pistol was full loaded, no shot having been fired from it. The barrels were full of dust, and it had the appearance of not having been discharged for over one month. The pistol was handed to me about 7 o'clock in the morning.

Peter Smith recalled.—Saw the pistol which was said to have been used by the deceased. There were three shots fired from it.

Matt Wright and Adam Hartig were next called for the Commonwealth. They heard the firing, but were not near enough to see who did the firing.

At this point that they were through. The case was argued at some length by J. H. Price for the defense and R. J. Elliott for the prosecution, when it was submitted to the court, who, after summing up the testimony, held the accused in $500 to answer for forty votes. The anti-Lincoln candidate for sheriff was elected.
